

Nurse Aide I Nursing School Candidates

Individuals planning to take the Nurse Aide I competency examination to meet the requirements for a nursing school program application must follow the same process as all Nurse Aide I candidates. No exceptions will be granted.

Individuals currently in a nursing school program in North Carolina can register to take the Nurse Aide I competency examination through their school's administration.